I, the undersigned publisher, owner or primary member, agree to assume all risks incidental to the use of the privileges conferred by the press identification issued to employees; to comply promptly with any reasonable direction by any police officer; and to conduct myself/themselves in such a manner so as not to interfere with the police mission at hand. I understand the Louisiana Press Association may revoke any press identification for violation of procedures. I also understand that the Louisiana Press Identification may not provide admittance into venue/special events such as the state legislature or LSU sporting events; separate press credentials may have to be obtained from that particular entity.
